MR. WISES' BITTERNESS.

Mr. Wises BITTERNESS,
Mr. Thom, in referring to the bittortest of Capt. Wise against Mr. Massey hursday, said that it was a secrilege for Capt. Wise to have quoted the scripture he did against Mr. Massey and so far forget the scriptural injunction.

tion.
His described Mr. Wise's featful arraignment of Mr. Massey and said it was, as if as a last opportunity, he, Wise's sought to put a dagger in his heart. As he sat and heard Capt. Wise's terrible denunciation of Mr. Massey, said, "as I saw him with his arm outstretched and fingers crooked like thions, ready, it appeared, to tear Mr. Massey to pieces, I could but recall the figure of Senator Lamar, when, in the United States Senate, as another call the figure of Senator Laciar, when, in the United States Senate, as another victim was being pursued, he said: "When Prometheus was chained to the rock, it was a vulture and not an eagle that struck him,"

"He believed the day would come when Capt. Wise would give his right arm to be able to take back the attack that he had made upon this old witness. "When Capt. Wise grows older and the fires of animosity have burned out, he will regret the vituperation that he hurled upon that old grey head, although I believe Capt. Wise is sincere in his hatred and believe that he is trying to do what is his duty, but he will regret this strack."

But, gentlemen of the jury, if this is the estimate in which the laws from which we got our own holds the home — the material home in which we have our dwelling—what sancity will you attach to all that is in the human bresst, and in the teuder sensibilities of human nature, and in the holiest feelings of a human heart, add to all the rights which we as humble beings nesses. American Book Company.

The defense claim, said Mr. Thom, that the American Book Company bribed Mr. Massey with money and that the same time he was so impecunious that he couldn't pay his taxes. One or the other of these statements is false, said Mr. Thom.

As to the suggestion that the plain iff had feared to put the Baptist ministers on the stand as to Mr. Massey's character, Mr. Thom said if they had put the ministers on the stand the defense would have at once asked the witness, as in Dr. Anderson's case, "Are you of the same denomination with Mr. Massey?" The Baptists are with Mr. Massey. The Baptists are with Mr. Massey, however, said Mr. Thom, no is shown by the fact that in his own county, he has recently been elected Moderator of the Baptist Association.

It will be remembered that in Mr. Wise's speech he told of the "North Carolina girl who admired Mr. Neely's sound voice and eloqueut words and Mr. Thom's hard licks, and sharp cuts," Mr. Thom so hard licks, and sharp cuts, when the following, which was read to the jury and greatly enjoyed.
